

NEWS IS SHOCK TO WHITE HOUSE

Refusal of T. R. to Fight
Hughes Depresses the Administration.

News of Col. Roosevelt's refusal to head a third ticket came like a thunderbolt to President Wilson's supporters yesterday. They had hoped that both Hughes and Roosevelt would run.

While no statement was forthcoming, there was no mistaking the gloom about the White House. The President's closest friends would make no statement as to his feelings, but they were plainly downcast.

"Hughes will be much easier to beat than Roosevelt," said Senator Ollie M. James, who will be permanent chairman of the St. Louis convention.

Fervent anxiety was manifested at the White House. When Hughes was nominated, White House officials turned their interest to the Bull Moose convention to see if Roosevelt would be nominated.

There was unbounded joy when Roosevelt was named, but then came a reaction of feeling when it was flashed from Synter Bay that the Colonel might not accept. Hopes sank with a thud when news of the Colonel's declination came.

Contrary to custom, the President remained in the White House until 5 o'clock. He received direct reports from Chicago and was busy putting finishing touches on the Democratic platform plank.

Goes Over Platform.
During the afternoon the President went over the platform and plans for the St. Louis convention with Senator James, Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, and Hoke Smith, of Georgia. Senator James plans to attack the Republican platform in his address at the convention.

The Headquarters of the Democratic National Committee issued the following statements yesterday:
"Can 4,000,000 Progressives be stand-pated? That is the question."
"In being compelled to choose between two leading candidates, the one of whom says nothing ever and the other whom says nothing frequently, the Republicans of Chicago had a hard job."

"Who controlled the National convention of 1912? Boss Penrose, Boss Barnes, Boss Smoot, Boss Gallinger, Boss Murry Crane."

"The effort to raise the issue of Americanism against Woodrow Wilson is the most transparent piece of political bunco that has ever been attempted in the generation."

MANN BACKS HUGHES AS PARTY CANDIDATE
Immediately following the nomination of Charles E. Hughes, Representative Mann, of Illinois, minority leader of the House, issued a statement supporting the new candidate.

His statement is as follows:
"The seemingly impossible has happened. The office of President is seeking the man, not the man the office."

"In the greatest crisis of the world's history America should put forward its best. The American people, by general consensus of opinion, have looked to Mr. Justice Hughes as the ablest man to fill the office of President. This opinion has controlled the Republican convention. He has not desired the office and has not striven to obtain it, but as a patriot he must yield to the public opinion that he is the best fitted to take the office in these strenuous times. His calm poise, his broadness of intelligent vision and his firm determination to uphold the best principles of American liberty and of the highest civilization make it certain that when elected the safety of American ideas will be assured under his administration."

TELEGRAMS POUR IN UPON HUGHES

Candidate Answers Congratulatory Messages Through the Press.

Telegrams of congratulation poured in upon Justice Hughes by the hundred last night from defeated favorite sons, from Roosevelt delegates, and from old Republicans, among them former Senator George F. Edmunds, of Vermont.

Justice Hughes requested that his acknowledgments be conveyed through the press. It was possible for him in the rush of the day to send but few messages. The only one made public was that addressed to the Vice Presidential candidate, Charles W. Fairbanks.

Among the messages received were the following:

"I congratulate you on a testimonial to your standing as a statesman, citizen and patriot—unique and unexampled in the history of American politics and I felicitate the country on an opportunity it will certainly embrace."

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

"I most heartily congratulate you upon your selection as the leader of the Republican party in the present national contest."

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

"Heartiest congratulations and best wishes."

ELIHU ROOT.

"You have my sincere congratulations. I shall do my utmost to aid you during campaign and during your term as President, which will follow."

JOHN W. WEEKS.

"I congratulate you most heartily upon your nomination and confidently predict your triumphal election."

THEO. D. BURTON.

"Congratulations and assurances of earnest and cordial support."

Can 4,000,000 Progressives be stand-pated? That is the question."

"The undersigned delegates from Colorado, who supported Col. Roosevelt for the nomination, cordially congratulate you and assure you of our earnest support."

F. B. STEWART, E. C. SCHUYLER, A. M. STEVENSON, R. W. SMITH, DANIEL TAYLOR, J. E. EWING.

Justice Hughes made public the following message:
"Hon Charles W. Fairbanks, Indianapolis, Ind.:
"Your telegram is deeply appreciated. I heartily congratulate you upon your nomination. It is most gratifying to me."

CHARLES E. HUGHES.

ROOT LAUDS HUGHES.

Says Former Justice Would Make Good President.

Utica, N. Y., June 10.—Word of the nomination of Justice Hughes reached former Senator Elihu Root at his summer home on College Hill, Clinton. Mr. Root made this statement tonight:

"It is plain that Mr. Hughes has been nominated because a great mass of the rank and file of the Republican party wanted him."

"I am confident that he will be elected and will be a President of high quality, competent to deal with the serious conditions confronting the government of our country."

BARNES IS DEFEATED.

Herbert Parsons Elected New York's National Committeeman.

Chicago, June 10.—Official connection between William Barnes and the New York State Republican organization was severed this afternoon at the Coliseum when Herbert Parsons was elected national committeeman.

At the last minute the Barnes partisans in the delegation, led by Senators James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and Eton R. Brown, abandoned their idea of a fight and Mr. Parsons' election was by unanimous vote, except for Joseph H. deBraga, of Queens, who cast his vote for Barnes.

MOOSE MEN FEEL "TEDDY'S" BLOW

One Delegate Leaves Singing,
"Good-Bye Girls, I'm Through."

By WILLIS J. ABBOTT.
(International News Service.)

Chicago, June 10.—Summing up the situation at the close of one of the most exciting days in the history of American politics, it may be said:

1. Col. Roosevelt's "conditional" refusal of the Progressive nomination has put an end to that party as a coherent organized political force.

2. The refusal will undoubtedly be made final after further expression by Justice Hughes on the question of Americanism.

3. It is probable that the Colonel can deliver the Progressive party as an organization. He will be unable to secure the adherence of its program of its more radical leaders. Some will go to Wilson.

4. As individuals, however, so great a proportion of the Progressives will return to their former Republican allegiance as to greatly strengthen that party in its coming contest.

Bull Moose Dying.

The week of political conventions in Chicago has ended with a tragedy. The Progressive party lies dying, wounded unto death by the stroke of its adored hero, delivered just as it had given him the highest honor it had at its command.

Above all, where does it leave Theodore Roosevelt himself?

A specific answer to this is not easy to obtain from others or to formulate in the present disturbed condition of political circles. Progressives like Strauss, Loeb, Garfield, Walter Brown and the greater radicals already mentioned, differ widely in their diagnosis of the situation.

The first and vital consideration is whether the Progressives, as a party, accept Hughes upon Col. Roosevelt's decree to that effect and thereby surrender their existence as an independent party.

Or whether they will repudiate their former leader, nominate someone in his place and thus probably proceed by a longer but no less certain road to extinction.

Think Wilson Is Beaten.

President Wilson was in a minority of 120,000 votes as compared to the vote of the combined Republican and Progressive parties four years ago. He will gain somewhat this year by the vote of Republican pacifists whose whole platform is "he kept us out of war."

When the two sides of the problem are balanced, it is probable that Wilson will be found to have lost more than he has gained by the policy of national timidity and evasion. This will be the case if the latter utterances of Justice Hughes favor Roosevelt to lead the greater part of his former followers into the Republican camp.

Though opinions among leading Progressives as to the immediate action taken differ, have yet to find one who questions that the death knell of the party has been rung and by the man it trusted most. William Allen White sounded its dirge when he emerged from the convention hall whistling in slow time, "Good-Bye, Girls, I'm Through."

Alexander Moore and John Hays Hammond talking together in a hotel lobby admitted that this was the end. Nathan Strauss, Loeb, and Van Valkenberg acquiesced in this opinion.

Rose Garden Opening Delayed.

Roslyn, L. I., June 10.—The formal opening of the Rose Garden of Rear Admiral Aaron Ward, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Ward, set for today, has been given up because of continued bad weather. All those holding tickets or willing to contribute $1 to the American Ambulance Fund will be admitted to the garden any afternoon until June 16.

For Heavy Artillery Corps.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 10.—Colonel C. E. F. Babcock has forwarded to Adjutant General Stotesbury, of the National Guard, a request that the Sixty-fifth Regiment be reorganized into a heavy artillery corps.

NOW RECOMMENDS TANLAC TO FRIENDS

Master Medicine Overcame Stomach Trouble and Restored His Strength.

EFFECTS QUICK CURE

C. S. Potter Says He Sleeps Much Better Now and Feels Refreshed in the Morning.

When one has suffered from any ailment, it is actually finding relief, it is a human that the person should want to tell other friends about the cure.

C. S. Potter of 194 Main street, Rochester, N. Y., suffered from indigestion and a general run-down condition but now, since taking Tanlac, he sleeps much better and feels refreshed. In telling of his case, Mr. Potter said:

"I suffered from indigestion for a long time and was in a run-down condition. I had a small appetite and what I ate would form gas on my stomach. I had backaches and did not sleep well."

"I saw Tanlac advertised and thought I would try it, and now after taking two bottles find that my appetite is better and that neither the backache nor the bloating is as bad as it was. I now sleep much better and feel refreshed in the morning. I want to recommend Tanlac to all who feel that it benefited me."

Some of Tanlac's greatest triumphs have been gained by building up run-down people. Lifting them from the condition of Mr. Potter before he took Tanlac to the condition he attained after he used it. "I throw off pain, illness and lethargy and to take on health, strength and freshness is sufficient to make Mr. Potter and thousands of other people who have had the same experience, grateful for Tanlac."

Tanlac is now sold and explained daily by Mr. Singerman, the Tanlac man, at the People's Drug Store, every day at Seventh and E streets northwest, and every evening at Fourteenth and U streets northwest. Mr. Singerman will be glad to explain how to take Tanlac and what results to expect from its use.

Tanlac may also be obtained at all the other People's Drug Stores at Seventh and K streets northwest and 1150 Seventh street northwest.

TAFT EULOGIZES NEW CANDIDATE

At Philadelphia Dinner, Calls
Hughes "Scholar, Statesman and Man of Force."

(By the International News Service.)
Philadelphia, June 10.—William Howard Taft, ex-President of the United States, at the Union League of Philadelphia tonight enthusiastically approved the Republican convention's choice of Charles E. Hughes for the Presidency, and stated his conviction that the Progressives have no excuse for withholding their support.

He was told that Col. Roosevelt had declined to run.

"I am very much gratified if that means that he is coming over," said Mr. Taft.

What Taft said of Hughes was the uttermost that one man can say in praise of another.

Mr. Justice Hughes is the highest type of American. He is a scholar, a statesman and the proper man for the office. He bridged the unfortunate gap of 1912. He is a great campaigner, a man of great eloquence and force.

"I sent Mr. Hughes a telegram this afternoon which I told him that the nomination was a great testimonial to his patriotism, his statesmanship, his character and personality; that it was an unexampled compliment and I felicitated the party on having embraced the opportunity of accepting him."

MRS. HUGHES IS LOVER OF HOME

Election of Husband Would Preserve Tone of Culture in White House.

The White House, under Mrs. Hughes, as First Lady of the Land, would have a tone of refinement and culture, but of distinct "homeliness." In the opinion of those who know her intimately as mistress of the governor's mansion at Albany.

Mrs. Hughes is a highly cultured, intellectual woman. She has wide interests, but she has never let them interfere with what she considered her first interest—that of being a companion to her husband and a mother to her children.

Mrs. Hughes is a native of Milwaukee, as was her husband, Charles E. Hughes, although in New York when she and Mr. Hughes were married in 1888. Her father, the late Walter S. Carter, was a member of the firm of Chamberlain, Carter & Hornblower, was well known, not only as a lawyer, but as a collector of etchings.

It was shortly after he had made Charles Evans Hughes, a junior member of his firm, which then became Carter, Hughes & Cravath, that Mr. Hughes married the daughter of his senior law partner. She had studied in Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., and later had taken a special course at Wellesley.

In the early nineties, Mr. Hughes, having overtaxed his strength in legal work, went to Cornell as a professor of law, and there, for two years, Mrs. Hughes was one of the most popular and best known members of the college community. On their return to New York she presided in their charming home at 700 West End avenue.

Mrs. Hughes is only a little more than 40 years of age, with a rather tall, slender figure, and pleasant expression. She has regular features, an abundance of brown, wavy hair, and noticeably attractive brown eyes. In political matters, she is as sphynx-like as her husband. When living in Albany she invariably replied to would-be interviewers that "she was the wife, and not the political partner of the governor of New York."

Overcome by Gas Fumes.
Caldwell, N. J., June 10.—Recorder William F. MacChesney was found lying in a stupor on the floor of his office with gas flowing from an open jet nearby. William Rosenbaum, a telegraph operator, who found the recorder, called Dr. Edward E. Peck and had him removed to his home in Smully avenue, Caldwell. His condition is not considered serious.
